TRAUMA

TWO WHEEL

Slider Gilmore's Golden Hour Program

6:30PM . Inside

Dick "Slider" A. Gilmore has been riding since the mid 60's and has been involved with Basic Life Support Classes and training since the 70's. Because of the lack of knowledge shown when he had his motorcycle accident, he recognized the need for emergency personnel to be trained specifically on motorcycle accidents. He also realized the need for motorcyclists to be better informed on how to assist at the scene of an accident. In 1986 he developed the first classes in the country that dealt with motorcycle accidents. Two Wheel Trauma (TWT) provides basic and advanced Emergency Medical Training (EMT) credit to first responders and ambulance personnel. The class teaches the mechanics of a motorcycle accident and how best to provide emergency assistance. TWT has been taught in several states, including Sturgis prior to the Rally to help prepare EMT's. The program has been presented to over 5,000 EMS, fire, law enforcement and nursing personnel. During his class, Slider breaks down stereotypical barriers and provides a thoughtful forum for interaction. Slider's presentations started in 1986, educating thousands of riders in almost every state. He has been a Critical Incident Stress Management Team member for NW Iowa, covering 17 counties, since 1993. He has worked tirelessly to prevent motorcycle accidents and promote first aid education, blending the worlds of motorcycling with emergency medical services, breaking down stereotypical barriers through education.

ABOUT US

My name is Benny from Benny's Bike Rally and I am the owner of the American HellRiders Wall of Death. In 2007, I held my first bike rally. Because of the great response, I became interested in building my own Wall of Death. I attempted to call and e-mail other Wall of Death vendors in the United States for the second year and received no response. With some research on the internet I figured out how to build this thing that has become known as the wall of death. The American Hellriders Wall of Death was built in 2007. The summer after the rally I started to buy all the wood and it was built in my shop with the help of some good friends.

Korey Hall aka "CC Rider" is from Detroit Michigan. He grew up in a small town outside the city. At an early age everyone knew he was born to ride a motorcycle. Learning that I had built this thing they call the Wall of Death. He knew he had to ride it. Now two years later he is our main rider. His self taught ability to ride the Wall of Death is something for everyone to see old and young alike! Now he travels with us to over twenty-five US cities a year and is living a life only others dream of. Riding a motorcycle for a living!

The wall takes 10 hours to set up and 7 hours to tear down and is hauled on a flat bed trailer.

HISTORY

The Wall of Death (AKA Motordrome) is a carnival sideshow featuring a drum- or barrel-shaped wooden cylinder, ranging from 20 to 36-feet in diameter, in which stunted motorcyclists (motordrome) racing in the early 1900s, the very first carnival motordrome appeared at Coney Island amusement park (New York) in 1911. The following year portable tracks began to appear on traveling carnivals and in 1915, the first "silodromes" with perpendicular walls were seen. These motordromes with perfectly straight walls were soon dubbed the "Wall of Death." This carnival attraction became a staple in the US outdoor entertainment industry with the phenomenon reaching its zenith in the 1930s with more than 100 motordromes on traveling shows and in amusement parks. The first known Wall of Death in the UK appeared in 1929 at Southend.

The audience views from the top of the drum, looking down. The bikes start in the middle, at the bottom of the drum, and drive up an initial ramped section until they gain enough velocity to drive horizontally to the floor, defying gravity
